Section 1: Introduction

We believe that it is important for clients who seek debt advice to have the assurance that both the organisation they access, and the adviser that they engage with, are operating to the highest standards.

The quality framework comprises of two interlinked and essential parts - the 'organisational' quality framework and the 'individual' quality framework, which together, form our approach to ensuring the high quality of debt advice services in both the free-to-client and fee-charging sectors.

The framework provides a single, transparent and consistent mechanism which enables quality standards, membership codes, qualifications and vocational training currently used in the debt advice sector to be assessed against the requirements of the framework and achieve accreditation from the Money Advice Service. This will ensure that both an organisation and its individual advisers are delivering consistent and high quality debt advice.

This publication sets out the principles and process for assessing organisational and individual quality in the debt advice sector.

Any standard or membership code that is externally assessed as meeting all of the framework requirements is "accredited" and we publish a list of those standards that comply with our framework, and the organisations that hold those standards on our website. We work with standard and membership code owners to keep this list up to date, to enable over-indebted people to make more informed choices when accessing debt advice services.

The individual component of the framework is based on the National Occupational Standards (NOS), an approach fully supported by stakeholders in the consultation process during early 2013. NOS are owned by various Sector Skills Councils and those used in the Money Advice Service framework were developed by the advice sector. The framework for individuals, developed by a Working Group of key debt advice stakeholders, focuses on the separate tasks and activities that are required for an adviser to be competent taking account of the various business models used across the debt advice sector.

The framework for individuals is developed to ensure that the range of debt advice qualifications, training programmes and other learning in use in the sector, supports debt advisers with the knowledge and skills to undertake the range of activities required to provide clients with high quality advice. Accredited training and qualifications is detailed on our website outlining the pathway that debt advisers can take when choosing the appropriate training or qualification for their role eg. support work, casework etc. Any accreditation award is valid for three years and will be subject to review at this time or earlier where there are any changes made to the content or any changes in regulation/legislation.

An independent external organisation administers the application and assessment process to map quality standards, membership codes, qualifications, vocational training and sole advisers against the relevant components of the framework. The process identifies those that meet the requirements in full, in part or not at all. We continue to work with those that require further development in order to fill gaps and to achieve accreditation.

We are currently developing an independent peer review process to provide additional reassurance of suitable and relevant advice to clients. This will be launched in 2015.

We have introduced a requirement for all projects that we fund to comply with a standard or code that meets our framework. Where an organisation fails to maintain an accredited standard then it will no longer be eligible to receive funding.

We also hope that, because the framework provides assurance of consistent and high quality services to both creditors and funders of advice services, other advice providers that are not funded by us, decide to opt into quality standards accredited to the framework.

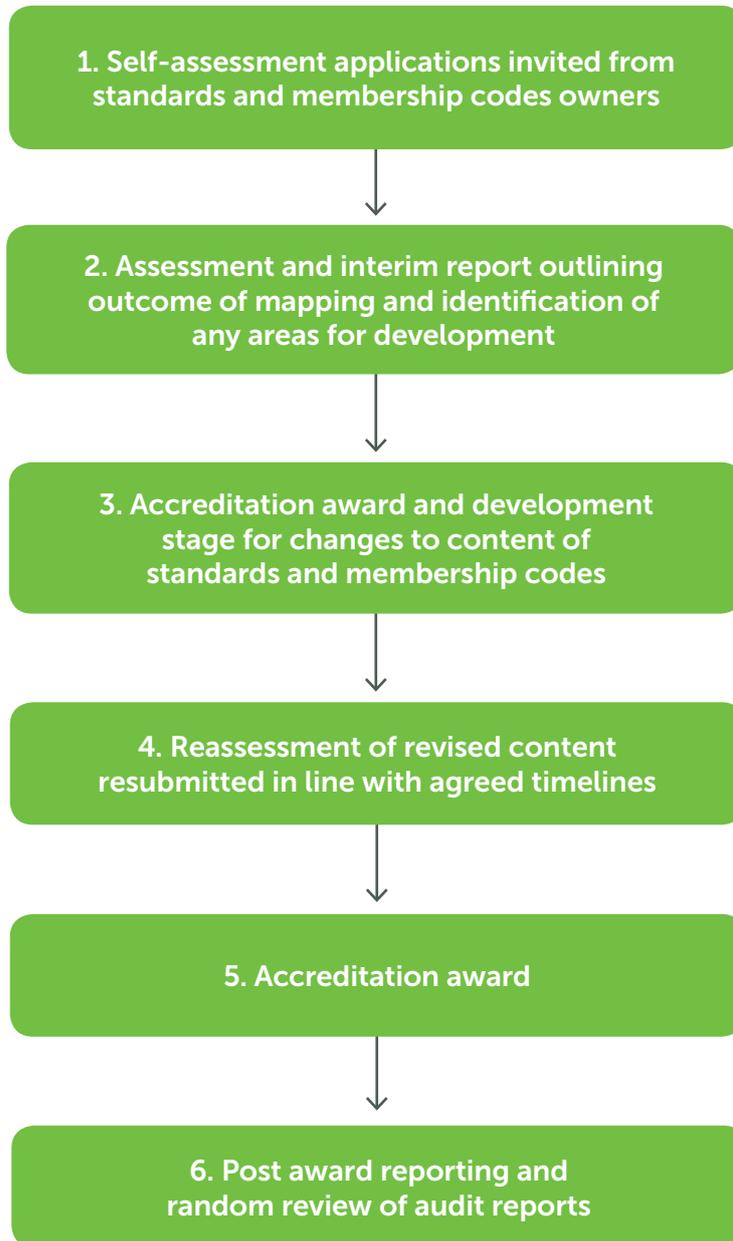

Section 2: Accreditation scheme for organisational quality standards and codes for debt advice services

2.1 Introduction to the Quality Framework for Organisations

- The quality framework for organisations has been designed to enable the wide range of existing and new quality standards and membership codes in use across the debt advice sector to be independently mapped and, where they meet all of the requirements of the framework, will be accredited by the Money Advice Service.
- The framework provides the foundation for raising quality and consistency in the delivery of debt advice and it covers organisational systems, governance, adviser skills and competence and outcomes for clients.
- The framework detailed in Section 2.3 of this document outlines each of the three high level quality areas for a high quality organisation: a focus on client need, good governance and a learning organisation. It provides the details of organisational systems and processes that must be demonstrated by standards and membership code owners.
- All accredited standards and codes will have demonstrated that they assess compliance through appropriate and rigorous processes that include on-site audit, the assessment of advice, and have a three year audit cycle.
- The Money Advice Service will work with the owners of accredited standards, and codes, to encourage them to implement a more consistent and standardised approach to the process of assessing compliance. For example, additional risk based triggers will be encouraged eg. through annual self-assessment or through a peer-review process which would alert standard and code owners to the need for an interim assessment.
- The Money Advice Service has developed a process with standards and membership codes owners to develop a mechanism to maintain a list of accredited advice organisations.
- Accreditation is valid for three years and will be subject to review in the event of any changes made to standards, membership codes, training and qualification during the accreditation period.
- The framework will be reviewed every five years, with the exception of where changes in legislation or regulations occur that affect the framework during the five year period. Following any changes being made, at the five year stage or before the Money Advice Service will reassess all accredited standards, membership codes, training and qualifications against the revised framework and renew accreditation where appropriate.

2.2 Application process for standard and code owners

Standards and membership codes owners will be able to submit an application for accreditation to an independent external assessment organisation through an open application process.

Section 3: Accreditation scheme for individuals delivering debt advice

3.1 Introduction to the Quality Framework for Individuals

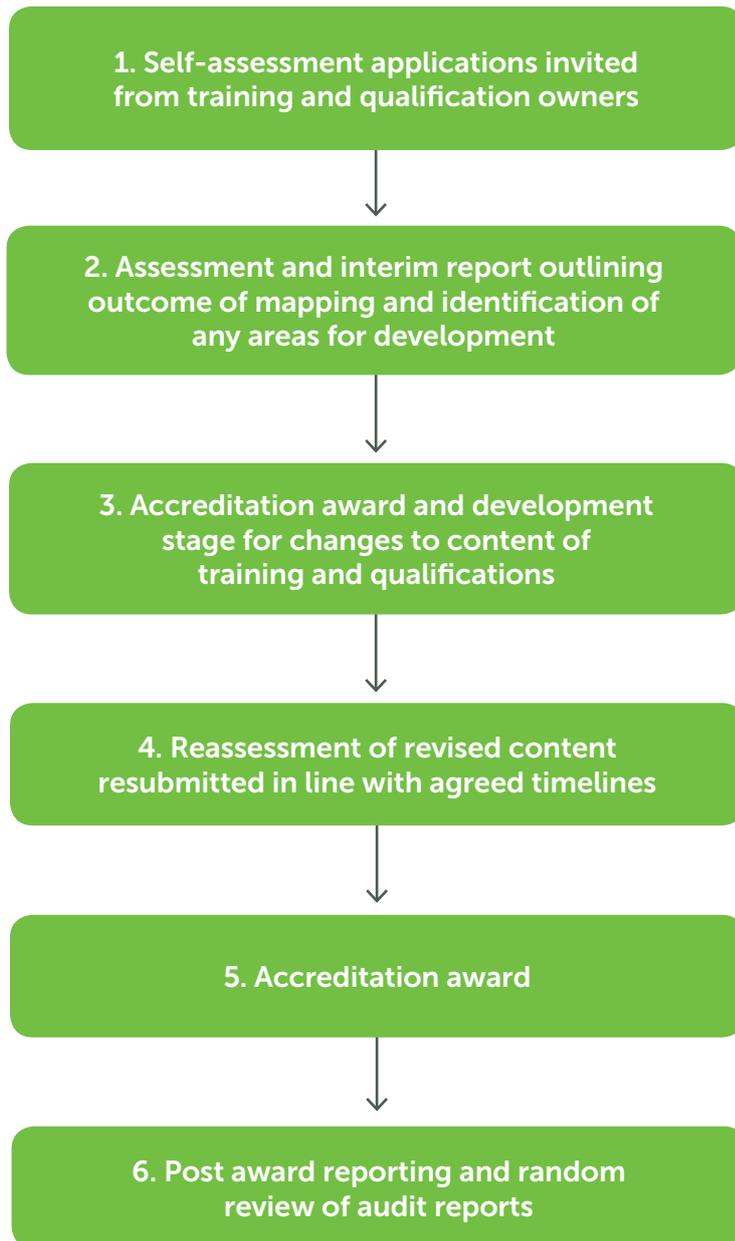

- The framework for individuals identifies the activity sets that are undertaken throughout the debt advice journey across a variety of roles, from initial contact, support work, advice, casework and specialist advice, through to representation and supervision. During the development of the framework, each activity was mapped against the relevant National Occupational Standard (NOS) suite and units. The results of this process can be found in section 3.4 - 3.6. Section 3.3 provides the high level summary of each activity and identifies the NOS that now form the core requirements for each activity set.
- The framework enables the owners of debt advice training and qualifications (including internal training programmes) to submit their training and qualification programme content and assessment processes for mapping, and for an independent external assessment against the framework. Applicants are asked to identify the debt advice activity set that each course and qualification is designed to support, aligned with the framework. Independent assessors will determine whether each training course or qualification meets the quality framework criteria, or if further development is required before it can be recommended for accreditation.
- The NOS used in the development of the framework are owned principally by Skills for Justice. The detailed NOS content and the knowledge units within each, are the basis against which the training and qualification programme content is assessed and mapped to the framework for individuals.
- The accreditation scheme provides a transparent framework and an accredited pathway for debt advice organisations and individual advisers. Any potential new employer taking on an adviser who has completed accredited training and qualifications will have assurance about the competence and ability of the adviser to take on a new role. This will help to facilitate career progression for advisers across the sector.

- In addition to meeting the NOS content requirements, training and qualification owners will be required to provide evidence that the following criteria are being met:
 - Learning is assessed
 - They have robust and secure systems for administration of courses and qualifications
 - They conduct an evaluation and review of trainers and training materials
 - They have appropriate complaints and feedback procedures in place
 - They hold professional indemnity insurance covering trainers
- The assessment will take into account where training and qualification owners have policies that allow prior accredited learning as a prerequisite for access to their learning programmes eg. accredited 'initial contact' training could form an entry level pre-requisite for a learning programme for 'support work'.
- The Money Advice Service is in the process of scoping and procuring a process to validate the knowledge, skills and competence of experienced debt advisers who will have undertaken their training prior to the accredited learning pathways being in place. This process will be in place during 2015 and will enable all advisers across the sector to provide baseline validation of their competence to undertake the activities necessary in their work and identify any gaps to be addressed.
- The Money Advice Service is developing a peer review process to assess the quality of debt advice during 2015. The process will include taking a sample of debt cases from organisations providing debt advice and identifying whether the appropriate advice was given to the client and whether there are any improvements which need to be made. Each assessed organisation will produce an action plan to address any development areas identified. We will share the high level results and trends with owners of accredited quality standards and membership codes with the aim of generating improvements across the sector.

3.2: Application process for training and qualification owners

From April 2015 new training and qualifications owners will be able to submit an application for accreditation to an independent external assessment organisation through an open application process.

For detailed information on the accreditation process for individuals see our publication 'Quality framework for individuals: Accreditation process'.
